pac sac - Volume LIV

Clinton, South Carolina

Education is the path to answering many of the world's problems. Being an educator is a difficult task. To accomplish that task one must be truly interested in and concerned for his students. He must love knowledge, and enthusiasm must be a part of his nature. He must be an active part of today's changing society. To one such educator,

DR. RONALD DANTAN BURNSIDE

we dedicate the 1969-70 Pac Sac.

Another season and the Blue Hose finish third in the Carolinas Conference. After the first half of the season, the team rallied to win five out of the six remaining games. With two-thirds of the team being freshmen, and fifty-three out of sixty men returning next year, the future looks bright. The seven seniors closing their career at Presbyterian were Johnny Bankhead, Sandy Cruickshanks, Raymond Smith, Carey Fussell, Ed Paulling, Phil Bradner, and Bill Bradshaw. But these leave knowing that rival Newberry College was beaten all four years.

Basketball

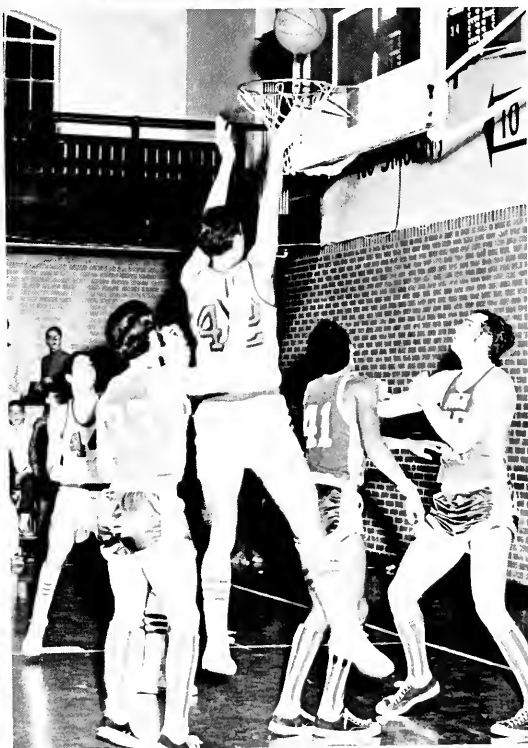

69 - 70

With an overall 12 - 14 record, the Blue Hose had a good basketball season. Coach Herb Robinson led the seven freshmen and two sophomores on the twelve man team to a performance which marked the team's best since 1959.

Though there was the loss of Fred Melson at mid - semester, the team earned their way to the Carolinas Conference Tournament. All in all, a good year for the cagers.

homecoming 1969

Alumni return, reminiscing old times, and commenting on changes that have taken place. New buildings, new faces, different attitudes, coeds — all are added to the old buildings, traditions, and familiar faces. For the students it is the time of a big weekend . . . the parties, the dance, the football game, the Homecoming Queen. For all . . . a happy time.

inter-fraternity council

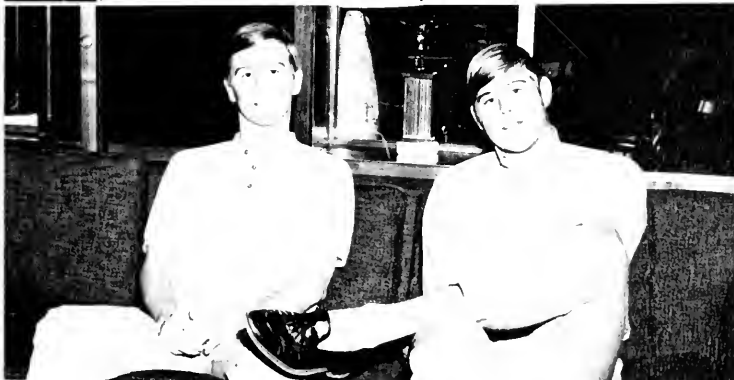

The purpose of the IFC is to provide regulations for the operations of fraternities (especially during Rush Season), to sponsor the activities for Greek Weekend during the second semester, and to act as the representative link between the Fraternity system and the faculty and administration.

student government association

Presbyterian College grows each year. In order to cope with its problems and to serve it, the Student Government Association is expanding its scope and spreading its leaves. While striving to bend toward the student, the council is careful to extend a branch toward the faculty, the administration, and the Board of Trustees. The pattern of communication is life or death to Student Government because it depends on the student, but must carry through to the other elements as well. The newly initiated system of two major councils and committees combines faculty, administration, and students.

Changes which have effected students considerably have been the re-vamping of assembly, controversies of Rat Week and ROTC. In recent years the SGA has affected the student through the initiation of the pass-fail system and changes in the cut system, and suggested a uniform grading scale which is now in effect.

The Honor Council, the judicial branch of the SGA, has made several changes this past year by amendments to the Student Government Constitution. The Council is now composed of eleven members instead of the previous ten. This member was added to allow for a defense attorney to insure a defendant of his rights. The other major change is the minimum penalty for the first offense Honor Code violation. It was reduced from two week's suspension to a sentence left entirely to the discretion of the Honor Council according to the severity of the offense.

DAN CAMP

Appointed by the Student Council, the Student Entertainment Committee sponsored numerous social events to enliven the campus. In addition to sponsoring such outstanding entertainers as Billy Joe Royal, The Pieces of Eight, and The Brooklyn Bridge for concerts and dances, campus movies were provided with admission free. For those students interested in country and western music, a Blue Grass Concert was held. The newest addition to campus life was the Dirty Mind which presented local talent as well as the professional artistry of Mary Smith and the members of the Coffee House Circuit.

Without The Blue Stocking, the students of Presbyterian College might never know what is going on in the college community. The staff is composed of various and original contributors each week. Editor Tom Cain and the rest of the talented staff have supplied the student body not only with the news and happenings around Presbyterian College but, also, with much "food for thought". Each edition contains many contemporary issues outside the academic community. Even though we may not always agree, The Blue Stocking has helped to make us aware of our surroundings in both our college and world communities.

Busy day, busy days, busy daze — and more than a few busy nights — the deadline approaches, the coffee pot empties, and the days go by with fantastic speed. Suddenly the time arrives when all is done and, with vague regrets of what it might have been, we send the copy on its way. Once more an annual is made, compounded of dreams, plans, and hours of work by the staff. And though we may display a certain proprietary spirit, our book belongs to no one and to everyone. It is a little bit of each of us, fragments of our daily lives preserved to remind us of the whole and bring us pleasure in remembering.

Westminster Fellowship is an organization on campus in which all students are considered members. The W. F. stands for the principles of Christian love and service. In the 1969-1970 year, it has been project-centered. Some include a drive for Halting Hunger, a clothing drive to help needy families in Kentucky, a Christmas party for underprivileged children in the Clinton, Mountville, and Joanna areas, and painting the Child Care Center in Clinton.

The Blue Key is a national honor fraternity formed to honor men who have displayed qualities of leadership during their college careers. Among the purposes of the organization are the fostering of ambition for intellectual attainment and the desire to render service to the student body and college, the study of student problems, and the enrichment of student life.

Each year the Blue Key aids in registration and in planning Youth Day and Parents' Day. In an effort to maintain cordial relations and to increase school spirit, the Blue Key annually holds exchange chapel programs with the Wofford and Newberry Blue Key Chapters.

JON MACKEY, President
 HAL HOWINGTON, Vice-President
 LENA STRICKLAND, Secretary-Treasurer

Sigma Psi is an organization established for psychology majors. Seminars, viewing stimulating films and planning for various service projects are among the yearly activities of this organization. Not only are the members concerned with furthering their knowledge of psychology but also they aid in promoting an interest for psychology among the students.

human relations council

The Human Relations Council of Presbyterian College is a student organization dedicated to encouraging interest in such varied areas as social affairs, political science, law, art, and science. We sponsor speakers of many fields and controversial figures representing all parts of the political and social spectrum. We are open to free debate and discussion. The Council is non-partisan and encourages the propagation and exchange of all ideas and philosophies.

the pc players

The PC Players, a group of college students interested in drama and theatrical productions annually present various plays in the Black Magic Theatre. Many skills are required in backstage work, lighting, set construction and design, properties, make-up, and costumes. The players kicked off the 1969-1970 season with the successful production of Moliere's Tartuffe.

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honor dramatic fraternity whose Tau Mu Chapter was organized in April, 1968, on the P.C. campus. Students earn membership in the fraternity by their participation on-stage and backstage in the plays produced by the PC Players. The national organization includes casts in all fifty states and Canada and is the largest college drama society in the world. Each year the group sponsors various theater activities and services.

presbyterian college choir

The Presbyterian College Choir is open to all students with talent and enthusiasm. This group of selected students provides enjoyment for listeners as well as the participants. The yearly activities include: performances for Youth Day, Parent's day, and for the board of Visitors. The Choir presented a very enjoyable Negro Spiritual music lecture-concert to the student body. Other activities include trips and concerts highlighted by their Spring Tour to Florida and states along the way. The overall musical ability and spirit of the Choir help to make each performance one that the audience will never forget.

Music has been compared to "the Speech of Angels" and every performance of the Madrigal Singers verify this analogy. The "Madrigals" are a part of the Presbyterian College Choir. Dressed in authentic costumes of the sixteenth century, the group sings songs of this era. The Jester and Magician are an additional asset to their authenticity. The Morris Dancers perform with the "Madrigals" as a unique group of entertainers. The Madrigal Singers presented a Dinner-Concert in early December and have performed at various churches. They also have appeared on E.T.V. and Edith Lang's Today in the Carolinas.

Man's conquest of the moon has made science one of the most popular and important interests of today. It is the purpose of the Tau Phi Pi Science Society to keep themselves and the academic community abreast with all the latest scientific discoveries. At the moment they pursue such "down-to-earth" activities as revision of their constitution and organization of their goals. The future may hold their sponsorship of interesting and knowledgeable speakers.
